TLBAA Hall of Fame Award Nominations Now Being Accepted

The criteria for the TLBAA Hall of Fame Award is based off of Article 1 of the TLBAA ByLaws as follows:

> ... to recognize Texas Longhorn cattle as a distinct breed in order to protect the unique heritage of the Texas Longhorn and its link with the history of America: to promote breeding practices to preserve its purity; to produce more public awareness of Texas Longhorn cattle as a distinct breed...to encourage others to develop and maintain herds which will be registered with the Association so as to preserve for posterity this magnificent breed of cattle; to aid in the advancement of scientific knowledge of the past ancestry and future breeding of Texas Longhorn cattle...
> (Note: Article I contains other language that relates directly to the Association)

Breeders nominated for the TLBAA Hall of Fame Award should embody the practices in the above mentioned Article I excerpts. They should also have a minimum of 25 years in the Longhorn Industry and have made a significant impact to the breed and/or Association.
